FCC ID Cover Letter

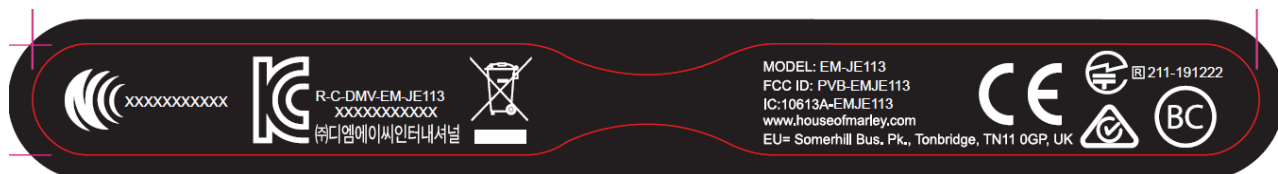

We, The House of Marley.LLC, hereby submit justification for placing the cover FCC ID (PVB-EMJE113) not on the product body, but on the label attached the cable of product.

We did multi-national certificates for this product and want to print the entire information together, but the product body cannot provide enough physical space to print the entire label, so FCC ID places on the label attached the cable of product.

We declare the label is folded and tightly attached on the cable of the product. And the label material is water proof and tough enough for tearing, if the user did not intentionally remove it (like cut it off or tear off with strength), it can be permanently fixed on the product.

Conclusion: Based on the above description, we conclude that product body cannot provide enough physical space to print the entire label. We therefore request to place FCC ID on the label attached the cable of product.

The label information as below:

The general location of label are as below :
