A black, L-shaped electronic device is shown on a blue surface. The device has a vertical rectangular section and a wider, shorter base. On the top surface of the vertical section, there are two small, dark circular features. The base of the device features two circular buttons, each with a small, light-colored center. Two wooden rulers are placed next to the device for scale. One ruler is positioned vertically along the left side of the device, and the other is positioned horizontally below the device. The horizontal ruler has markings in centimeters and inches, with the text "Made in China" visible. The vertical ruler also has markings in centimeters and inches. The device appears to be a small electronic component, possibly a sensor or a switch.
